

Book Talk

Brad Jones, PhD
Department of History
Fresno State

Monday, November 7th

6:30-8pm

Ellipse Gallery

2nd floor

Fresno State Library

"Resisting Independence makes a major contribution by contextualizing popular loyalism's ideological formation in the print culture of four diverse port cities and persuasively probes the tension within Britishness between diversity and unity during a critical period of change."

William & Mary Quarterly

"Jones has provided a revealing, boundary-crossing study of an alternative set of ideas spawned by the American Revolution."

Journal of the Early Republic

Visitor Parking Coupon Code: 337406

Sponsored by the Department of History, Phi Alpha Theta, and the History Graduate Association (HGSA)