

Central Valley Emerging Leaders Summit

CVELS is a three day residential leadership development experience for Valley high school students.

Student Participants

"Leadership is hard work that requires making serious risks throughout the process, and at the end of it all you feel accomplished with what you did."

98

Valley high school students attended the inaugural CVELS

30

High schools from the Central Valley were represented

Learning Outcomes

As a result of participating in the Central Valley Emerging Leaders Summit students will...

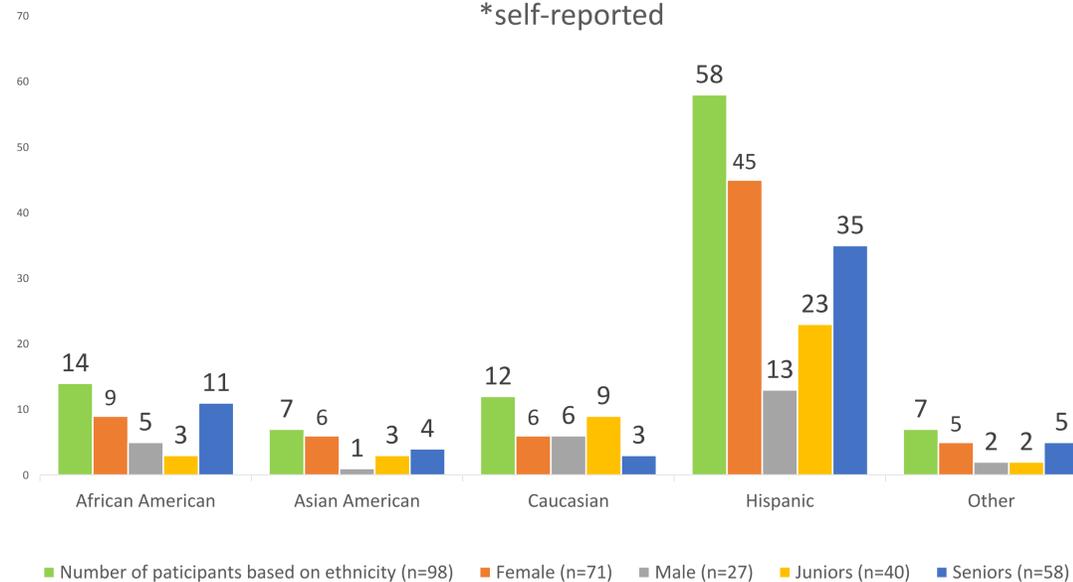

- Cultivate leadership skills and competencies
- Develop an understanding of leadership through experiential learning
- Understand the value of civic responsibility of service
- Explore college pathways

"3 lessons I learned from attending the workshops are: 1. Financial aid is very helpful and a college education goes a long way. 2. Diversity is important in society and we should embrace it. 3. It's good to know about college before you go to college."

Participant Demographics

*self-reported

96% of students felt CVELS advanced their knowledge of leadership

Student Facilitators

CVELS was supported by 17 Fresno State students who served as small group facilitators ensuring that the participants connected to the curriculum and enjoyed the experience.