

Live Inspired!

News and Updates from the Fresno State OLLI

Hi from Jill!

This weekend is the 109th commencement at Fresno State. Through the years, I've had the good fortune to be on campus for many commencement seasons, and it's wonderful!

Joy, pride, relief and love mingle in the air as families, friends, faculty and staff celebrate the class that - just like that - shed their anxiety over finals, theses, and dissertation defenses.

While we all miss the ceremonies this year, we can't miss celebrating the class of 2020. The culmination of study, effort and determination is worthy of recognition.

If you know a graduate, shower them with love through calls, cards, gifts, social media posts and whatever you can think of that respects social distance. While gatherings may be postponed, don't postpone sharing your joy.

We hope that this milestone is the start of the adventure of lifelong learning for these 6,400 Fresno State graduates.

Jill

Jill Wagner is the Executive Director of the Fresno State OLLI

Click HERE to watch two Fresno State students learn they've received the university's highest honors

Info & Resources

Enjoy virtual tours of 10 of the world's most famous landmarks by clicking HERE

If you like the author Michael Connelly, you can read an excerpt from his upcoming thriller "Fair Warning" HERE

The Fresno County Public Library posts a video of a Poem-A-Day recited by Fresno's First Poet Laureate James Tyner which you can view HERE

This week we are featuring updates from some of our OLLI instructors:

Dog trainer Kit Perry will teach in summer and fall and in the meantime offers virtual training - and it works! Click HERE to learn more

If you are on Facebook, join Dianne Callahan's Lighthearted Life Community for encouragement and inspiration HERE