Faculty access to campus
Effective March 24, 2020 – Subject to Change

1. Faculty are strongly encouraged to conduct teaching from home and follow the guidance provided in the governor’s shelter in place order.

2. If faculty plan to use their office to deliver instruction, they can access their office during normal campus hours (8 a.m. - 5 p.m.) with key or card access. Please call Police Dispatch (559-278-8400) if assistance is needed to gain access.

3. If faculty need to teach an evening class on campus, we recommend they inform Fresno State Police Department with building location and length of stay so that additional patrols can be provided to ensure the safety of our campus community.

4. Faculty requests to use a classroom or lab for virtual teaching must be approved on a case by case basis (request to the dean). Classroom access is restricted as we are in the process of deep cleaning and sanitizing all classrooms.

5. Requests to access buildings, offices or classrooms will be verified by campus police if someone does not have a key or building access card. Please remember to have your Fresno State I.D. card with you at all times.

6. Colleges/schools have prepared a list of faculty who plan to teach on campus. Faculty members not on the list who request access to campus building after 5pm will not be granted access, unless approved on a case by case basis by their dean, interim vice provost or provost.
