Although Graduate Statistics Consultants will not compute or analyze results for you, they will:

- work one-on-one with master's and doctoral students;
- assist in the application of statistical methods;
- explain and clarify statistical concepts;
- provide support with the creation/import and cleaning of data, as well as with correct formatting and drafting of results.

Special Resource Feature

Spencer Irish, one of our new Statistics Consultants, working with graduate students on their data!
