

AUTHORIZATION FORM TO DROP BELOW FULL COURSE OF STUDY

Immigration regulations require that all F-1 and J-1 students register for and complete a full course of study each academic semester. Federal immigration regulations severely limit a student's ability to be less than full time, but it may be allowed in circumstances explained below. AUTHORIZATION TO DROP BELOW FULL COURSE OF STUDY

QUALIFICATION CRITERIA

Immigration regulations require that an international student be enrolled full-time during each semester. Full-time enrollment requires 12 semester units for undergraduates and 9 semester units for graduates. Please note that courses you audit or any incompletes that you are working to finish do not count toward the full-time enrollment requirement for immigration purposes. In addition, federal regulations limit only one (1-5 units) online/web course to count toward full-time enrollment requirement for immigration purposes.

According to 8 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations) § 214.2(f)(6)(iii), the Designated School Official (DSO – the Student Immigration Specialist and staff in ISSP have this designation) may allow an F-1 and J-1 student to engage in less than a full course of study only under the criteria listed below:

- Medical Condition – A letter written by a licensed medical doctor, or a licensed clinical psychologist on their professional letterhead stating that a specific (explained) illness or medical condition compelled the student to reduce or interrupt (state which one) his/her full course of study. The letter should include the semester involved and the number of the unit reduction.
 - An F-1 or J-1 student must apply and be approved by ISSP prior to dropping the course(s).
 - An F-1 or J-1 student may receive a medical condition reduce course load for a maximum of 12 months per degree level but must be approved each semester.
- Academic Difficulty – Federal Regulations list authorized reasons for Academic difficulty as (1) Initial difficulties with the English language, reading requirements, or unfamiliarity with U.S. teaching methods and (2) Improper course level placement.
 - An F-1 or J-1 student must apply and be approved by ISSP and their department prior to dropping the course(s).
 - An F-1 or J-1 student must register for a minimum of 6 semester units.
 - An F-1 or J-1 student can only be authorized for an academic difficulty reduce course load once during each academic program level (Bachelor's, Master's). An initial difficulty reduce course load can only be approved within an F-1 or J-1 student's first year in the U.S.
- Final Term – ISSP must be notified by completing the reduce course load form if a student is completing their final semester. If a student is unable to graduate within the semester for which a request for a final semester reduce course load was made, they will need to report to ISSP as soon as possible.
 - An F-1 or J-1 student must apply no later than the last day to drop courses.
 - An F-1 or J-1 student may receive a Final Term reduce course load during their final academic semester only.
- Graduate Student working on thesis, project or comprehensive exams – ISSP requires the completed form along with an authorized signature from the student's major department. Student must be enrolled in requisite thesis/project units.

Please note that a lack of financial support does not constitute a valid reason to reduce your course load. Please also be aware that lack of course availability or inability to obtain required course is not a valid reason for a reduce course load.
