Academic Org ID: Theatre Arts [221]

College/School: Arts and Humanities [48]

Effective Term/Year: Fall 2016 2017

Program Type/Name: Major / Bachelor of Arts - Dance

Description:

The Dance major involves students in creative inquiry, embodied, inventive collaboration and skillful expression of ideas in order to prepare them for lives of leadership, service, and excellence in the arts, culture and business of the future. Each student in the Dance major explores performance, training, design, technology and research in a multifaceted liberal arts context in order to develop individual identities as artists and the abilities to work collaboratively in a diverse workplace. The degree provides an excellent broad-based foundation for work in the arts or entertainment professions or for further training at graduate schools or conservatories. The program's liberal arts emphasis prepares graduates for a variety of occupations in multiple performance fields, as well as non-performance fields.

2. Program Overview and Rationale
   a. Rationale, including a brief description of the program, its purpose and strengths, fit with institutional mission, and a justification for offering the program at this time.

The B.A. in Dance degree will meet current standards in dance education and be a solid foundation for the expected needs of the increasing numbers of dance students within our Central San Joaquin Valley service area. The curriculum establishes a foundation rich in the core areas of dance and is designed to educate students to become skillful, articulate, expressive movers; find their own voice as creative artists; develop the ability to work effectively in a collaborative environment; and grow in their conceptual understanding of dance as an art form in relation to the other arts and the diverse global society in which they live. Fresno State is well positioned to convert its existing B.A. in Theatre Arts, Option in Dance to a full-fledged B.A. in Dance degree.

The 54 unit degree will follow curricular structure, content, and time requirements that enable students to develop a range of knowledge, skills, and competencies as designated by the National Association of Schools of Dance for Liberal Arts degrees. The BA degree will be an outstanding and innovative provider of dance education and dance training in the central Valley of California. The Bachelor in Arts Dance will serve as a catalyst for students to realize their creative potential by providing a personalized and rigorous learning environment, fostering experiential education and contributing to the cultural enrichment of a global society.

Further as a result of the Theatre Arts Department’s most recent NAST (National Association of Schools of Theatre) accreditation review in 2014, the accreditation commission noted that the Dance Option of the B.A. in Theatre is out of compliance with theatre degree standards. In comparing the course content of the dance option as currently listed in our catalog, not only is it comparable with all other similar degrees offered by our sister campuses (important to note that none of the campuses in Central San Joaquin Valley offer a B.A. in Dance), it is only one course shy of offering it as a B.A. in Dance.

We submit this request to convert the B.A. in Theatre Arts Dance Option into a B.A. in Dance and because there would not be any significant capital outlay to accomplish this, we hope that you can add this degree plan to the campus' master plan as soon as possible so that we can move forward as seamlessly as possible to transition students out of the Theatre Dance Option into the Dance degree.

• From the NAST Commission Action Report of April 22, 2015.
Item 1: Dance Option. "1. Information regarding the Bachelor of Art 4 years: Theatre Arts (Dance) was not included in Section II of the Self-Study, although the curriculum was discussed in the Visitors' Report...From the information submitted, it is not clear how this degree meets NAST standards regarding consistency between degree title and content (See Handbook Standards for Accreditation II.1.2.g, II.1.2.c, IV.C.4). The institution is asked to review this curriculum and either a) change the title to reflect current content, or b) revised the content to align with the current title. Should option b) be chosen, the institution is requested to submit an application for Plan Approval."

Department Response: With the support of College of Arts and Humanities Interim Dean Jose Diaz, the Theatre Arts Department reviewed the curriculum of the Dance Option and has decided to create a new BA 4-year degree in Dance. It will be housed within the Theatre Arts Department, but will now be a separate degree, not part of the Theatre Arts degree program. Because the existing Dance Option needs only a few minor changes to meet the University's criteria for degree approval, the plan has been fast-tracked for approval at the California State University system level. It is expected that the Dance BA will be approved and operational by the 2017-18 academic year.

The new BA Dance degree similar to the old BA Theatre Arts degree will meet accreditation requirements as applicable. The Theatre Arts Department is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Theatre (NAST) and holds memberships with the Association for Theatre in Higher Education, the California Educational Theatre Association, the California Alliance for Arts Education, and the United States Institute of Theatre Technology. The department regularly participates in the American College Theatre Festival (ACTF) and the American College Dance Association (ACDA).

The pre-graduation assessment includes the linkage of the Degree Program Goals:
And the Program Learning Outcomes on a course by course basis. Data will be collected on an annual basis by the program degree coordinator and reviewed each spring with the teaching faculty and the department head. An example rubric is below.

The post-graduation assessment includes:

- A graduation exit survey related to educational skills attained. This is a self-ranking survey links to the program learning outcomes;
- A one year post-graduation survey related to job attainment and career path. This establishes the rate at which graduates enter the professional world, and where they become employed.
- A 3 year post-graduation survey to employers related to satisfaction with skill levels and performance as a professional;
- A five year post-graduation survey related to overall educational student satisfaction, and achievement as demonstrated by awards and job level;

b. Differences between the proposed program and programs listed in Section 5a above.

There are not glaring differences in the above listed BA programs. CSU Long Beach is much more comprehensive. The other BA programs are comparable.

c. List of other curricula currently offered by the campus that are closely related to the proposed program.

There are no curricula currently offered that are closely related.

d. Community participation, if any, in the planning process. This may include prospective employers of graduates.

Community participation in the planning process has come from the following sources:

- Janeen C. Worland, Central Unified School District, Director of Curriculum and Instruction.
- Yukari Thiessen, Director of Valley Performing Arts Council and Director for School Arts Education with the Central Unified School District, Kings River School District and Fresno Unified School District.
- Jimmy Hoa, Director of Fresno City College Dance Program.

e. Applicable workforce demand projections and other relevant data.

- Performing Arts Companies
- Colleges, Universities, and Professional Schools
• Independent Artists, Writers, and Performers
• Performing Arts Management/Administration, Sports, and Similar Events
• Dance Therapy
• Travel Arrangement and Reservation Services

The study of dance equips a student with a broad range of communication and organizational skills applicable to many careers, including those in the performing arts. The dance major’s presentation skills, ability to perform in public, and control of the body provide a solid basis for working effectively with others. Dance also develops the ability to concentrate intensely, listen introspectively, observe keenly, solve problems creatively, think critically, collaboratively develop a project, work independently, work under pressure, meet deadlines, and maintain composure when faced with the unexpected. A career as a performer or choreographer is not the only option available to a dancer. Opportunities also exist in education, community and participatory dance work, and associated areas such as dance management, administration, and production.

2. Student Demand
   a. Provide compelling evidence of student interest in enrolling in the proposed program.

The current Bachelor of Arts Theatre degree with a dance option has been both successful and comprehensive. This new Bachelor of Arts degree in dance will continue in that tradition with the addition of world dance along with enhanced and additional opportunities in dance education, creativity, research and performance to meet the demands our graduates face once they graduate.

As the dance major/minor advisor I know first hand the prospective dance students and their parents prefer a Dance Major to a Theatre Arts Major. Most simply want a degree that focuses purely on the rigors of dance training, education, and performance. The current BA in Theatre – Dance Option often loses prospective dance majors to other Universities that do offer a B.A. in Dance.

National Dance Education Organization statistics on dance education in the United States show a growing demand for a University dance education. This new BA in Dance will meet these needs.

Statistics on Dance Education in the United States

Higher Education
- Approximately 665 postsecondary institutions offer dance minor and major programs in the United States. ¹
- 90% of students graduating with MFA degrees will eventually teach in postsecondary education. ²

K-12 Education

² Kahllich, L. An analysis of the Master of Fine Arts degree as preparation for dance faculty in United States' institutions of higher education, (1990).
• Best estimates indicate there may be 6,000 K-12 schools in the United States that offer dance as part of the K-12 curriculum.
• 7% of US students in K-12 education are taught by qualified PTE and FTE dance specialists.
• 3.5 million children receive dance instruction from dance specialists (of 50m total in US K-12 education).
• It is reported that approximately 57% of American children receive no training in dance education.
• Of the remaining 43% who do receive some form of dance taught in schools:
  • 36% receive some instruction usually delivered in either physical education programs taught by physical education teachers and coaches or in other classes taught by generalist teachers, volunteers, parents, artists in schools, etc.
  • 7% taught by full- and part-time dance specialists.
Private Dance Studios and Schools
• There are approximately 32,000 dance studios in the United States.

The dance education statistics above, such as the number of students in public and private elementary and secondary schools and higher education enrollment were provided by the National Center for Education and the National Dance Education Organization.

b. Identify how issues of diversity and access to the university were considered when planning this program.

Fresno State received the 2014 Higher Education Excellence in Diversity award from “INSIGHT Into Diversity” magazine, one of the nation’s largest diversity-focused publications in higher education. According to the magazine, Fresno State was selected for demonstrating exemplary diversity and inclusion initiatives, as well as for embracing a broad definition of diversity on campus. This program will utilize the existing campus diversity efforts to enhance the overall student pool. CSU Fresno’s 2014 overall enrollment is 40% Hispanic, 15% Asian and 4% African-American. The program enrollment objective is to replicate the overall state’s ethnic profile in its student body. Specifically
c. Describe professional uses of the proposed degree program.

Successful completion of the BA Dance degree will allow the student to apply for positions in performing arts companies, colleges and professional schools as dancers, choreographers and dance technicians. It will provide a seamless transition to graduate programs in dance performance and education as well as K-12 credential programs. Other professional uses include being an independent artist in dance or related disciplines, producing dance events and promoting the performing arts or similar events. The curriculum is designed to provide students with a strong skills set, a knowledge base for critical thinking and a set of ethical values appropriate to enter a professional setting. Moreover, graduates of this program will also be competitive in associated fields.

Employers of Dance Majors include: University theatre/dance groups, advertising agencies, theatres, touring companies, TV/Film studios, magazines, amusement and theme parks, newspapers, arts councils, industrial shows, performing arts centers, government, colleges and universities, cruise lines, television networks and schools.

Examples of professions that dance majors undertake are listed below.

Professional Dancer: Dancers perform in a variety of settings, such as musical productions, and may present folk, ethnic, tap, jazz, and other popular kinds of dance. They also perform in opera, musical theater, television, movies, music videos, and commercials, in which they may sing and act.

Dance Teacher: A career as a dance teacher offers an increasing range of opportunities within private dance schools, the community, or in independent and state schools and colleges. Dance teachers can work with people of all ages and teach many different dance styles; tap, modern, ballroom, folk, African, Asian, ballet, or contemporary.

Choreographer: Many dancers are also choreographers who create dances. You do not have to be a dancer to choreograph professionally, but it is often the main route into getting your first choreography job.

Community Dance Worker: Community dance workers often work as part of regional arts and community agencies teaching, choreographing, and organizing dance programs and projects. Community dance workers generally work with a range of groups, which may include people with disabilities, young people, the elderly, and schools.

Dance Therapist: Dance/movement therapists work in settings that include psychiatric and rehabilitation facilities, schools, nursing homes, drug treatment centers, counseling centers, medical facilities, crisis centers, and wellness and alternative health care centers.

Arts Management: Arts organizations, have a number of administrative, business, or management functions. These roles require people with creativity and an understanding and passion for the arts, as well as skills in a range of areas from finance and marketing to education. This could include working for dance companies, in theatres, regional arts/dance agencies, and the many dance organizations around the country.

Dance Notator: Dance notation is the method of recording movement using symbols in order to analyze and understand dance and preserve dances for the future. There are two main systems in common use: Benesh and Laban Notation.
Graduate School Options: The two most common graduate degrees offered for dance: the Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) and the Master of Arts (M.A.): Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.): The M.F.A. is studio based and is focused on the "making and doing" of the art itself. Master of Arts (M.A.): The MA in dance is focused on scholarly and research-based activities, which may be related to issues concerning dance aesthetics, theory, history, or cultural studies.

Assumes 68% retention rate after entering major in year two.

3. Anticipated student demand

Initially, this degree program draws from a pool of over 3,500 entering students at Fresno State. The new BA in Dance is expected will interest greater number of prospective dance majors than the existing BA in Theatre Dance Option. Marketing of the new degree will be part of the rollout associated with this new degree.

"Note: Although theatre and dance have enjoyed a long history of collaboration and cross-pollination, majors are prevented from declaring more than one option within the B.A. in Theatre Arts degree. This proposed conversion of the Dance option to a B.A. in Dance will benefit Theatre majors in that they would be afforded the opportunity to declare a double major - one in Theatre and the other in Dance."

4. Existing Support Resources for the Proposed Degree Major Program

a. List Faculty who would teach in the program, indicating rank, appointment status, highest degree earned, date and field of highest degree, professional experience, and affiliations with other campus programs.

b. Describe facilities that would be used in support of the proposed program.

A complete dance studio environment (smart room completion January 2016) is in place in the Music Building (124), and sufficient classrooms are available for scheduling by the College and the university.

c. Provide evidence that the institution provides adequate access to both electronic and physical library and learning resources.

The CSU Fresno Library is modern, ADA compliant, and is truly a campus central point for students to gather and study. The library staff is supportive of continuing to build a collection to support this degree.
d. Describe available academic technology, equipment, and other specialized materials.
The main studio/classroom for the dance degree program is Music 124. The studio will be a completed smart room facility as the Spring 2016 semester begins.

5. Additional Support Resources Required

a. Describe additional faculty or staff support positions needed to implement the proposed program.
The Theatre Arts Department has adequate faculty, staff and student assistant support. Enrollment and faculty positions are expected to remain at current levels. A program degree coordinator position will be established in the Department to provide curriculum programming and public interface, and to represent the program at the university and community levels.

b. Describe the amount of additional lecture and/or laboratory space required to initiate and to sustain the program over the next five years. Indicate any additional special facilities that will be required.

None required.

c. Include a report written in consultation with the campus librarian which indicates any necessary library resources not available through the CSU library system.

No additional library resources are required to replace the current BA Theatre Arts – Dance with a BA in Dance.

d. Indicate additional academic technology, equipment, or specialized materials that will be (1) needed to implement the program and (2) needed during the first two years after initiation. Indicate the source of funds and priority to secure these resource needs.

None.

e. Note student sources of support that will be available such as scholarships, teaching associates, graduate assistantships and/or fellowships.

Similar to the current BA in Theatre Arts-Dance the new BA in Dance will retain its current level of student support. For example, departmental scholarships will continue to be made available in the new BA in Dance.

e. Complete the new program budget analysis form (Appendix F). Indicate the method of funding (e.g. existing, new, development, special allocation, etc.). If appropriate, state that no new resources are required and indicate how this will work. Internal reallocations must be explained.
Since this new BA in Dance is replacing the existing BA in Theatre (Dance Option) no new funding or resources are required.

Abstract of the BA – Dance Proposal

The B.A. in Dance degree will meet current standards in dance education and be a solid foundation for the expected needs of the increasing numbers of dance students within our Central San Joaquin Valley service area. The curriculum establishes a foundation rich in the core areas of dance and is designed to educate students to become skillful, articulate, expressive movers; find their own voice as creative artists; develop the ability to work effectively in a collaborative environment; and grow in their conceptual understanding of dance as an art form in relation to the other arts and the diverse global society in which they live. Fresno State is well positioned to convert its existing B.A. in Theatre Arts, Option in Dance to a full-fledged B.A. in Dance degree.

The BA degree will be an outstanding and innovative provider of dance education and dance training in the central Valley of California. The Bachelor in Arts Dance will serve as a catalyst for students to realize their creative potential by providing a personalized and rigorous learning environment, fostering experiential education and contributing to the cultural enrichment of a global society.

The Dance major involves students in creative inquiry, embodied, inventive collaboration and skillful expression of ideas in order to prepare them for lives of leadership, service, and excellence in the arts, culture and business of the future. Each student in the Dance major explores performance, training, design, technology and research in a multifaceted liberal arts context in order to develop individual identities as artists and the abilities to work collaboratively in a diverse work place. The degree provides an excellent broad-based foundation for work in the arts or entertainment professions or for further training at graduate schools or conservatories. The program's liberal arts emphasis prepares graduates for a variety of occupations in multiple performance fields, as well as non-performance fields.

The new BA Dance degree will meet accreditation requirements as applicable. The Theatre Arts Department is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Theatre (NAST) and holds memberships with the Association for Theatre in Higher Education, the California Educational Theatre Association, the California Alliance for Arts Education, and the United States Institute of Theatre Technology. The department regularly participates in the American College Theatre Festival (ACTF) and the American College Dance Association (ACDA).

REQUIREMENTS

Bachelor of Arts Degree Requirements Theatre-Arts Dance Major

The theatre arts major, dance option, and minors are designed to provide competencies in the theatre arts for students who intend to pursue study beyond the Bachelor of Arts degree, who are preparing for careers in teaching or for the professional theatre. With the assistance of their advisers and with departmental approval, students follow a track of advanced courses specializing in the areas of Acting or Design/Technology, or students may opt for advanced courses covering a broad range of study by selecting the General track. The Theatre-Arts Program offers through the dance option intensive studies in dance performance, choreography, and theory. This option provides preparation for graduate studies or a professional career.
