

FRESNO STATE

Building a better community through volunteerism runs deep at Fresno State. This past year, 6,300 students participated in organized community service, logging more than 485,000 hours while working on some of our region's biggest social challenges.

Our commitment doesn't stop there. By our centennial in 2011, Fresno State is dedicated to providing 1 million hours of community service annually from students, faculty and staff. Thanks to a $3.5 million gift from long-time benefactors Bud and Jan Richter, the Center for Community Engagement and Service-Learning will continue to serve as a resource promoting volunteerism and community involvement.

At Fresno State we believe serving others is a life-changing part of learning. It's not just about a degree; it's about the degree we care.

POWERING THE NEW CALIFORNIA

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS

Sept. 10, 7 p.m. – Reading by Poet Sam Hamill, Student Recreation Center
Sept. 11, 13 & 15 – 7 p.m. Volleyball, Save Mart Center
Sept. 12-13 – Fresno State Blood Drive, University Student Union
See all exciting campus events at www.FresnoStateNews.com.

TUNE IN

Listen to how Fresno State is powering the New California with “Profiles of the New California,” airing on KVPR 89.3 FM during and after “All Things Considered” (4:58 p.m. and 7 p.m.) on KMJ 580 AM and KSKS 93.7 FM