Sources - Base vs. One-time Funding

The distinction between “base” and “one-time” is important when aligning resources with needs.

- “Base funding” refers to permanent funding or funding that can reasonably be expected to be available every fiscal year. “Base” is most commonly used in dialogue regarding the California State University, Fresno General Fund but could also be used in reference to other funds’ regular, stabilized annual funding. Funding for new positions and/or recurring activities requires base or permanent funding.
- “One-time” is typically used in reference to extra resources made available in a given fiscal year that may not be available again the following fiscal year. “One-time” can also be used in reference to the decision to fund a particular nonrecurring need as in “one-time funding.” One-time funding is most appropriately applied to non-continuing costs such as equipment purchases. Although, one-time funding could be applied to permanent needs, it would only be a one-fiscal year, temporary solution since the permanent need would continue and have to be addressed again in the next budget cycle.
