REQUIREMENTS

Department of Child and Family Science

Child, Family, and Consumer Sciences

Policies and Procedures for Admission. Applicants must meet all criteria for admission to the university and to the major. Admission to the program is a two-step process: (1) admission to the university and then (2) admission to Family and Consumer Sciences or Child Development major. All prerequisites must be completed prior to application to the major.

All students who have been admitted to Fresno State, but have not yet been admitted to the major, will be admitted to the university as "pre-family and consumer sciences" or "pre-child development" students. Admission to the university does not guarantee admission to the Family and Consumer Sciences or Child Development program.
