American English Institute

The American English Institute (AEI), which has been a university program for more than 25 years, is designed to prepare international students for American university studies by offering instruction in English as a second language. Students receive 20 hours of instruction each week but do not earn academic credit. Qualified students earn a certificate of completion at the end of each session. During each session, up to 140 international students enroll at the institute. Students have come from more than 50 different countries.

Admission Requirements and Application Procedure. Applicants must be high school graduates who are at least 17 years old. Applicants should be motivated to improve their English speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills. They should be prepared to attend classes every day and to do homework regularly. Interested students should call or write to the institute to obtain application forms. After completed application forms have been submitted along with an application fee, students will receive an I-20. Since processing and mailing of the I-20 take time, students should apply at least six weeks before the session begins. For further information, call (559) 278-2097, send a FAX to (559) 278-5586, check our Internet site at <http://www.csufresno.edu/AEI>, or write:

Director, American English Institute
California State University, Fresno
2450 E. San Ramon Ave., Room 138
Fresno, CA 93740-8032

Calendar and Fees. AEI has spring, summer, and fall programs. The institute charges students application, tuition, health, and student service fees. Interested students should contact the institute to get specific information on fees and session dates.

Instruction Offered. AEI has an effective theme-based curriculum which focuses on students' needs and interests. Topics such as current events and American culture become the basis for authentic listening, speaking, reading and writing tasks. The basic intensive program includes the following courses: reading and writing, listening and speaking, grammar, TOEFL preparation, and computer laboratory.

Special Programs. When there is sufficient interest, AEI also offers special classes and programs, such as Business English and GRE/GMAT preparation.

American Humanics

The American Humanics (AH) Program is linked with American Humanics Inc., a national organization that collaborates with affiliated college and university programs, professional organizations, and nonprofit agencies in recruiting, preparing, and placing students in meaningful professional careers with youth and human service agencies. Participation in this Special Certificate Program in Nonprofit Management and Leadership builds on and enhances students' chosen major course of study and provides the tools to achieve success in the field of youth and human service agency management. This interdisciplinary certificate is open to students of all majors and to individuals in the community. Courses may be taken part-time or through open university. American Humanics students are eligible to apply for special scholarships and awards.

Career Opportunities

Today more than 1.1 million nonprofit organizations are serving communities throughout the United States, including 700 agencies here in the Central San Joaquin Valley. Since the nonprofit sector grows at twice the rate of the government and private sectors, the need for capable nonprofit professionals increases accordingly and is now higher than ever. As a result of this explosive growth, the demand for candidates to fill professional positions far exceeds the supply of qualified applicants.

Requirements for the Certificate

The interdisciplinary certificate in Nonprofit Management and Leadership is under development. The curriculum will include a field experience with a nonprofit organization as well as courses in nonprofit management, social service, youth and adult development, accounting and financial management, program planning and evaluation, marketing, fund-raising, grant writing, and leadership and communication. For further information and for aid in planning such a course of study, consult the director, Matthew Jendian, Social Science, Room 223, at (559) 278-2891, ext. 2, or e-mail matthewj@csufresno.edu.

Applied Ethics

The Applied Ethics Program incorporates a wide range of courses addressing ethical issues and the application of moral values to problems students are likely to face in their professions, private lives, and responsibilities as citizens. Applied ethics courses are intended to enhance the students' appreciation of their own values throughout life.

While the program has neither a major nor minor, inclusion of several applied ethics courses in the students' curricula should be beneficial in a number of careers and in life itself. Several applied ethics courses count toward General Education requirements, as well as graduate seminars in certain departments. Prerequisites for advanced courses may be established by participating departments. For further information, consult the coordinator, Dr. Warren Kessler (Philosophy) and the Schedule of Courses.

CalState TEACH

Multiple Subject, CalState TEACH (CST) Emergency Permit/Pre-Intern Program. CalState TEACH is an alternative path to a multiple subject preliminary teaching credential with a CLAD emphasis. Available to individuals residing and teaching in any geographical location in the Fresno/Monterey Bay region, CalState TEACH is designed specifically to serve teachers who hold an Emergency Permit and teach in an elementary school (grades K-8). It is also for those who want to become teachers but are unable to access campus programs due to personal circumstances or because they live beyond commuting distance to a university. The program has been constructed to integrate the theory and practice of teaching with the daily experiences of teachers in the classroom.

CalState TEACH is a personalized, distributed learning program where beginning teachers work in small groups, guided and supported by faculty of Fresno State as well as by on-site school personnel. This flexible form of instruction allows part-time, home-based study and uses a rich mix of print, Internet, World Wide Web, video, and audio materials. There are no regular university classes to attend, although there are five Saturday seminars over the course of the 18-month program. After successfully completing the 18-month program, intern teachers will have earned a preliminary credential with a CLAD emphasis and 39 units of credit.

The CalState TEACH program is offered in four stages over the 18 months. Fees include the cost of instruction and all books, course guides, videotapes, audio cassettes, and computer software. Federal and state financial aid in the form of grants and loans are available for qualified students.

Program Requirements

1. Subject Matter Competency. California provides two ways for potential teachers to demonstrate knowledge of subject matter: completion of the liberal studies waiver program or passage of the Multiple Subject Assessment for Teachers (MSAT). At initial enrollment, students who have not already met this requirement will be advised regarding which route might be most appropriate. This requirement must be met prior to the beginning of Stage 2.

Special Programs

2. Computer and Internet Requirements. Since there is a Web-based communication system for the program, each participant must have access to a computer connected to the Internet.

3. Admission to the Program. Admission requirements are based on the standards of CSU campuses and the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. Basic requirements include a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university, passage of CBEST, a qualifying college grade point average, evidence of writing proficiency, successful completion of an interview with Fresno State faculty (learning support faculty), and three letters of recommendation. Assuming that these requirements are met, teachers working full-time with an emergency permit or waiver in a public elementary school will qualify for CalState TEACH. Assuming they are otherwise qualified, some elementary private school teachers, middle school teachers, teacher aides in public schools, long-term elementary substitute teachers, and other persons may be qualified to participate if they can obtain a substantial teaching experience to meet the in-class requirements of the program. This determination will be made on an individual basis, according to program specifications.

4. Professional Preparation	Units
Stage 1: CST 401 .....	9
Stage 2: CST 402 .....	9
Stage 3: CST 403 .....	9
Stage 4: CST 404 .....	12
Total .....	39*

*Nineteen units are intern teaching, observation, and application in the classroom. The remaining 20 units are devoted to the regular multiple subject credential coursework, plus the infusion of Crosscultural, Language, and Academic Development (CLAD), mainstreaming, and technology curriculum.

For CLAD certification, candidates must have taken the equivalent of 6 semester units of a language other than English with a grade of C or better. See page 255 for courses.

Cooperative Education

California State University, Fresno's Cooperative Education program (Co-op) incorporates productive, major-related work experience into a student's academic studies. Cooperative education students are given the opportunity to combine classroom theory with "on-the-job training" to work with professionals in their particular field of study and to test their career choice.

In addition to augmenting their marketable knowledge, students receive competitive wages, develop maturity, and may earn academic credits from cooperating departments. The program is available to all academic majors upon completion of the freshman year. There are two options for participation:

1. Under the Alternating Plan, students work one semester on a full-time basis and then study one semester on a full-time basis.
2. Under the Parallel Plan, part-time work is found that closely relates to a student's current classes and career interests.

Work, related to the student's academic and career choices, is identified through the combined efforts of the Cooperative Education Section of Career Services and the various academic departments. Placement arrangements are negotiated with local cooperating employers in the San Joaquin Valley, as well as throughout California and the United States. Co-op students have been placed in city, state, and federal governmental agencies; agriculture; business; and all facets of private industry.

To be eligible for co-op, you must be currently registered at California State University, Fresno, have at least a 2.0 grade point average, and be a sophomore, junior, senior, or graduate student. Eligibility for accredited co-ops and internships may vary between departments and colleges/schools. For further information, telephone Career Services at (559) 278-2703, or visit the center in the Joyal Administration Building, Room 256. Please note: all business related co-ops or internships accredited through the Sid Craig School of Business are handled by the internship coordinator in the Peters Building, Room 185, (559) 278-4985.

International Programs

There are several programs offered by the university under this heading.

- The campus program is designed for students whose native language is not English and for those whose education has been in a language other than English. All such students are required to participate in post-admission English language tests. As a result of such testing, any student may be required to register for certain courses.
- The overseas program features study abroad through the CSU system-wide program; the campus semester programs to China, London, and the South Pacific; and the University Studies Abroad Consortium (USAC).
- The National Student Exchange also has opportunities for students to study abroad through a university in another state.

Campus

The International (Campus) Program provides courses to help international students gain adequate skill in the use of the English language and sufficient familiarity with American customs and tradition to obtain maximum benefit from their experience at an American university. The following program, taught through the Linguistics Department, is required of all entering international students, unless excused from part or all of it by the International Studies Courses (I S C) Petitions Committee on the advice of the persons concerned with the instruction and administration of the program. This decision is based on a consideration of test scores and other data supplied by the student with his or her application. (See International Student Services and Programs.) After arrival on campus, examinations and an interview may lead to the student's being excused from certain courses.

All resident non-native speakers of English who cannot demonstrate basic competence on the EPT exam are required to enroll in either ENGL A or E S L 20-30 series based on their EPT scores.

First Semester Program. Most students are required to enroll in E S L 30 and I S C 93 in the first semester of residence. In addition, students with less skill in English may be required to take E S L 20. With permission of their international counselor, students may enroll in other regular courses.

Other Undergraduate Courses. E S L 110W is often required of transfer students who have completed ENGL 1 or its equivalent and 56 units of coursework.

Courses Taken in Graduate Standing. An entering graduate student whose previous education has been in a language other than English is held to the same standards of English proficiency as are undergraduate students and may be required to enroll in the following undergraduate courses when considered necessary by the student's advisers.

CSU International Programs

Developing intercultural communication skills and international understanding among its students is a vital mission of the California State University (CSU). Since its inception in 1963, the CSU International Programs has contributed to this effort by providing qualified students an affordable opportunity to continue their studies abroad for a full academic year. More than 12,000 CSU students have taken advantage of this unique study option.

International Programs participants earn resident academic credit at their CSU campuses while they pursue full-time study at a host university or special study center abroad. The International Programs serves the needs of students in over 100 designated academic majors. Affiliated with more than 70 recognized universities and institutions of higher education in 16 countries, the International Programs also offers a wide selection of study locales and learning environments.

The affiliated institutions are the University of Western Sydney (Australia); the universities of the Province of Quebec (Canada); the University of Copenhagen (Denmark) through Denmark's International Study Program; the University of Marseille, the University of Paris, and the Institute of Oriental Languages and Civilizations (France); the University of Tübingen and a number of institutions of higher education in the federal state of Baden-Württemberg (Germany); the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Tel Aviv University (Israel); the University of Florence (Italy); Waseda University (Tokyo, Japan); Yonsei University (Seoul, Korea); Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey, Campus Querétaro (Mexico City, Mexico); Massey University and Lincoln University (New Zealand); the universities of Granada and Madrid (Spain); Uppsala Universitet (Sweden); National Chengchi University (Taipei, Taiwan); Bradford, Bristol, Hull, Kingston, and Sheffield universities and the University of Wales, Swansea (the United Kingdom); and the University of Zimbabwe (Harare).

International Programs pays all tuition and administrative costs for participating California resident students to the same extent that such funds would be expended to support similar costs in California. Participants are responsible for all personal costs, such as transportation, room and board, living expenses, and home campus fees. Participants remain eligible to receive any form of financial aid (except work-study) for which they can individually qualify.

To qualify for admission to the International Programs, students must have upper-division or graduate standing at a CSU campus by the time of departure. Students at the sophomore level may, however, participate in the intensive language acquisition programs in France, Germany, and Mexico. California Community Colleges transfer students are eligible to apply directly from their community colleges. Students must also possess a current cumulative

Revising and Editing Skills

The following minicourses are designed to help students improve their writing skills. Each course offers intensive work in a specific area. Students may take one or all or any combination of these 1-unit courses. These courses may be taken prior to, concurrently with, or after ENGL 1 or ENGL A. Classes are taught by members of the English and Linguistics departments.

COURSES

Revising and Editing Skills (RES)

4A. Spelling and Word Formation (1)

Developing awareness of the systematic nature of English spelling in relation to the sound system and rules for word formation in the language. Mastery of the system rather than word memorization is emphasized.

4B. Vocabulary Development (1)

Acquiring greater sensitivity to the literal and implied meanings of words, developing an awareness of the processes of word formation in English, and expanding the active vocabulary.

4C. Sentence Structure (1)

Developing skill in writing clear, mature sentences. Focus is on structure — that is, on the alternative ways of phrasing the same idea and the consequences of choosing one alternative and not another. Sentence and phrase expansion, reduction, combination, and rearrangement are emphasized, not traditional grammar.

Solutions Center

The Solutions Center (formerly School of Agricultural Sciences and Technology Clinic Program) is a campus-based, team centered, open-ended, problem-solving experience appropriate for upper-class students. Solutions Center projects involve teams of three to five students under the direction of a faculty member, working on a problem identified and funded by a client/sponsor from industry, government, and the community. Students are expected to put into practice the theories they have learned in the classroom and deal with the dynamics of teamwork, budget, and schedule restraints. The program is intended to be a culminating experience for students. In some departments, the Solutions Center project has fulfilled the senior project requirement.

The Solutions Center establishes linkages with private sector sponsors, giving them an opportunity to participate directly with students and in university programs. Sponsors experience the successful application of university resources to specific areas of interest.

To be eligible for a Solutions Center course, a student must be currently registered at California State University, Fresno, have a 2.0 or greater grade point average, and be a senior or graduate student. Specific projects vary from semester to semester and enrollment is dependent on approval of the project adviser/instructor. For further information, call (559) 278-5687 or check our Internet site at http://www.csufresno.edu/solutions\_center.

Solutions Center (SC)

197. Solutions through Collaboration (3; max total 6)

Special Major Master's Degree

The special major for the Master of Arts degree is available to qualified graduate students when there is a need for advanced study in subject matter that is interdisciplinary and that is not available through existing graduate programs. In such instances, proposals for a special major that may combine cohesive, interrelated coursework from two or more departments must be submitted for the approval of the dean, Division of Graduate Studies. Proposals that could be accommodated by an existing master's degree or option at California State University, Fresno, as in the use of elective courses, are not approved.

General Eligibility

The student must demonstrate a superior undergraduate preparation for advanced studies and research appropriate to the departments involved in the proposed special major. The student must meet the minimum criteria for admission to conditionally classified standing in the departments concerned.

Degree Requirements

The basic requirements for the special major are the same as for all other master's degrees. A minimum of 30 units is required, and at least 70 percent of the program must consist of courses designated for graduate study, that is, in graduate-level 200-series courses. The proposed program must truly reflect the requirements of scholarly creativity and research appropriate to the graduate level and must exhibit overall coherence in a particular, recognized field of study. The proposed program must lead to the mastery of specific knowledge or skills in an area of advanced studies for which adequate faculty, library, and laboratory resources are present.

Although the special major provides an opportunity for exceptional students to engage in a program outside the framework of existing majors, all normal graduation requirements and standards will be applied. Students pursuing a special major master's degree are required to write a thesis to fulfill the requirement for a culminating experience. For more detailed information concerning the application process and the procedures for constituting a committee and program for the special major, consult the Division of Graduate Studies.
