Women's Studies

Classes in the Women's Studies Program encourage students to develop critical and analytical thinking skills and the ability to communicate new ideas to a general public. Women's studies students frequently say that women's studies classes enhanced their self-esteem and enabled them to more clearly define their special skills and talents. Therefore, all fields open to most social sciences and humanities graduates are open to Women's Studies Program graduates.

Career Opportunities

A recent survey of graduates from Women's Studies Program indicates the following fields of employment: health and human services, education, research, law and government, and criminology. Double majors say one major defines the field in which they work; women's studies defines the focus within that field. Postgraduate education in the arts and sciences and in business, law, medicine, social welfare, psychology, and education has provided many women's studies students with satisfying and challenging career opportunities.

Program Faculty

The Women's Studies Program has its own full-time and part-time faculty who come from a variety of disciplines: history, economics, sociology, political science, English, and philosophy. In addition to this core faculty, cooperating faculty members teach women's studies courses in their home departments: anthropology, art, Chicano and Latin American studies, criminology, drama, education, English, ethnic studies, health sciences, history, philosophy, psychology, recreation, and sociology. Saturday School faculty are most often chosen from the community-at-large on the basis of their particular area of expertise.

Degree Requirements

Women's Studies Major

	Units
Major requirements	36
Core: W S 103, 143, 153, 175	(12)
Approved electives	(24)
General Education	51
Electives and remaining degree requirements*	37-46
Total requirements	124

*This figure anticipates that W S 12 and a maximum of two other General Education courses may be applied to satisfy the women's studies major requirements (see General Education). Consult the women's studies program coordinator or faculty adviser for additional details.

Advising Notes

1. The 24 units of electives must be selected from a list of approved courses. At least one course must be selected from each of the three clusters. Consult the Women's Studies Program coordinator or faculty adviser for a list of approved courses in the three clusters.
2. No more than 3 units may be elected from the 1-unit Saturday courses: W S 108, 109, 112, 116, and 150T.
3. CR/NC grading is not permitted in the women's studies major, except for courses offered only under CR/NC grading.
4. General Education and elective units may be used toward a dual major or minor (see Dual Major or departmental minor). Consult the appropriate department chair, program coordinator, or faculty adviser for further information.

Minor Requirements

An interdisciplinary minor in women's studies is available to any Fresno State student. Each student's minor program is individually planned by the student in consultation with the women's studies program coordinator.

The minor in women's studies requires a minimum of 20 units, including W S 103, 143, 153, and 175. The other 8 units must be selected from a list of approved courses. Courses from this list also may satisfy General Education requirements as appropriate.

Certificate in Alcohol/Drug Studies

The Women's Studies Program is participating in a certificate of special study awarded to those students who successfully complete a minimum of 12 units of interdisciplinary academic coursework in the area of alcohol and drug abuse. (For complete details, see Health and Human Services Interdisciplinary Courses in this catalog.)

Victim Services Certificate

The Women's Studies Program is participating in a certificate of special study awarded to those students who successfully complete a minimum of 12 units of interdisciplinary academic coursework in the area of victim services. (For complete details, see Criminology Department or School of Education and Human Development.)
