PROGRAM

Visit Chile's agricultural fields to learn about different production practices used. Students will observe during site visits how products are tested, harvested, packed, cooled, stored, transported, branded, inspected, traded and so forth. Participants will tour facilities to learn how food products are prepared for the final domestic and export markets, and ready for the port. A U.S. Embassy briefing from the U.S. Agricultural Attaché as well as a port tour are included. Students will also visit a government research experiment station, INIA, equivalent to USDA.

Early registration is strongly encouraged. Proof of a valid passport is required prior to the trip. Any disability requiring special attention must be reported to the instructor.
