What term can students request to defer?

Undergraduate, Transfer, and Graduate students can request to defer their fall 2020 admission to spring 2021, or fall 2021.

Who can defer?

Undergraduate students (first-time freshman or transfer), graduate students, returning students in good standing, and disqualified returning students who show proof that they have cleared their conditions for admission.

Special Reminder for First-time freshman students

If a first-time freshman applicant decides to take courses at another college or university in fall 2020 while deferred, the student must now meet the transfer requirements.

When can I submit a deferral request?

Students may submit a deferral request beginning Jun 22, 2020.

Deadline for submitting the Admissions Deferral Request Form

The deadline for submission is August 1, 2020. Newly admitted students who did not complete the deferral request form by the deadline must contact the International Office for assistance as soon as possible.

How will I know my deferral has been approved?

The International Office will send an email confirming the approval as soon as possible and provide students with appropriate I-20 and documents subsequently.

Other Reminders

Once your admission has been deferred, the decision cannot be reversed without a petition filed with the International Office.
