"It is important that we as nurses understand how we fit into the nursing research process. All nurses, no matter what their specialty or day-to-day role, have a part to play in helping to advance our profession, to advance the methods and knowledge base we use to help people live healthier, longer lives and to improve care across the continuum."

ANA President Karen A. Daley, PhD, MPH, RN, FAAN

Purpose

The program is designed to enhance the participant's knowledge and research skills in order to integrate evidence-based practice in a variety of healthcare settings.

Goals

1. Promote the integration and dissemination of nursing research through completion of a research/evidence-based practice project.
2. Foster networks for creative thinking and problem-solving in the research/evidence-based practice process.
3. Enhance collaboration in nursing practice to improve healthcare outcomes.

Outcomes

Upon completion of the program participants will:

1. Develop a fundamental knowledge of research and evidence-based practice principles and concepts .
2. Apply evidence to practice using a high level of critical analysis.
3. Acquire skills to interpret and disseminate research findings for use in a variety of healthcare settings.
4. Gain a better understanding of the IRB process.

Benefits/Outcomes

The EBP/Research Academy is a collaborative program with California State University, Fresno, Academia and service organizations. Participants will utilize EBP/nursing research within the clinical arena to support organizational initiatives with consultation from experienced nurse researchers and mentors.

Description

A series of workshops will provide adult-centered education to include didactic, practical and problem solving opportunities that will culminate with a presentation at the annual Central Valley Nursing Research Conference.

- The Academy is a research program that involves a total of 45 hours.
- Workshops will be held March 27, April 10, May 8, May 22, June 12 and June 26, 2015 from 8:30 a.m.– 4:00 p.m. and August 21, September 25, November 6, 2015 from 9:00a.m.–12:00 p.m.
- All workshops will be held at the Central CA. Center for Excellence in Nursing. The Spring conference is April 24, 2015 and the Fall conference is October 9, 2015. These will be held at St. Agnes Medical Center.

A timeline of activities will be provided to participants to promote active participation in the research process during the program.
