

The Central CA Training Academy Presents: Commercially Sexually Exploited Children 101

Commercially sexually exploited children fall within the purview of California's Child Welfare system. This course will raise awareness and improve identification among Child Welfare and FFA social workers on the issue of commercially sexually exploited children. This one-day training will meet all of the state standardized learning objectives for CSEC 101.

Presenter: Nola Brantley

Nola Brantley is best known publically as a nationally acclaimed advocate who has played a large role in spear-heading the DMST/CSEC* awareness and advocacy movement in the state of California since 2001. But Nola Brantley is a very multi-faceted human being—she is a mother, an activist against all forms of social injustice, a motivational speaker, a woman of color, a survivor, a sister, a visionary.
