

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, FRESNO
SCHOOL OF NURSING
APPLICATION INFORMATION FOR
MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREE IN NURSING
POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE
FALL 2017

GENERAL INFORMATION

The school offers a Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) accredited program (www.aacn.nche.edu), which leads to the Master of Science degree in Nursing (MSN). Students select a functional role of either nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist. The nurse practitioner program has two options: Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) and Pediatric Nurse Practitioner (PNP). The MSN NP program consists of 40 graduate units. The Clinical Nurse Specialist has two options: Adult-Gero and Pediatric options that consists of 44 graduate units. These programs have met all of the American Nurses Credentialing Center's (ANCC) certification eligibility educational requirements. Students who complete one of these programs have the educational preparation to sit for national certification for that specific role and population. The MSN program no longer offers a part-time option.

All applicants must complete a two-part application process: to the University Graduate Division and to the School of Nursing. Note: The School of Nursing will not process your application until you have applied to the University.

Post-Master's Option

The number of units for the Post Master's Certificate can vary based on prior coursework. Applicants may receive course credit toward a certificate for graduate courses taken previously by submitting a copy of course descriptions, objectives, and assignments for review by the graduate coordinator. At that time, a course of study will be determined with input from the student and graduate curriculum committee.

All applicants must complete a School of Nursing Application.

SELECTION

Candidates selected for admission will be notified by June 15, 2017. The new student orientation will be scheduled the week prior to the fall semester, and selected candidates will be notified as to the date, time, and location of orientation. Attendance at the graduate orientation is mandatory.

EVALUATION OF PRIOR EDUCATION OR EXPERIENCE IN PRIMARY CARE

A gap analysis will be performed on each application to identify areas of strength and weakness. Students who are eligible for admission to graduate standing at California State University, Fresno may have prior educational preparation evaluated for waiver or substitution of required courses. In the case of a student requesting a waiver of graduate coursework, an evaluation of prior educational experience will be performed on an individual basis. Professional experience in primary care may also be evaluated on an individual basis for placement in the clinical courses and development of a curriculum to meet program requirements.

Components of this evaluation include, but are not limited to, a personal interview and review of transcripts, course material, and personal records. Based on this evaluation, an individualized plan for placement and progression in the graduate program will be developed, including the incorporation of alternate assignments.
