About Us

Community Regional Medical Center is the flagship of Community Medical Centers' three acute-care facilities, and one of the largest and busiest hospitals in California.

This academically-affiliated medical center has more than 620 beds and is located on a 58-acre campus in downtown Fresno. With a full-service 56,000-square-foot emergency department – one of the largest and busiest in California – it is home to the only comprehensive Burn and Level I Trauma centers between Sacramento and Los Angeles. Community Regional is also one of the busiest birthing centers in California and its 84-bed Level III NICU is the largest in the region. Specialty units include neuroscience, cardiovascular, orthopedic and women and children's services.

The campus features the Deran Koligian Ambulatory Care Center, a 79,534-square-foot facility that's home to asthma, dental, diabetes, eye, family and adult practice, HIV/AIDS care, internal medicine, oral and maxillofacial surgery and women and children's clinics. Across the street from Community Regional is Terry's House, a 17,000-square-foot, two-story home that provides a supportive residence for families while their loved ones receive critical care in the hospital.

An academic affiliation with one of the nation's best medical schools, University of California, San Francisco, brings leading-edge specialists and research to the Valley as part of the UCSF-Fresno Medical Education Program. Residencies and fellowships are offered in emergency medicine, cardiology and pulmonary medicine, orthopedics, general surgery, critical surgical care, obstetrics/gynecology, pediatrics, internal medicine, family practice, oral and maxillofacial surgery, general dentistry, pharmacy, wilderness medicine and psychiatry.
