

GEOLOGY MAJOR FOUR YEAR PLANNING

This is a course schedule for a student entering the Geology major program at California State University, Fresno in their freshmen year and planning on graduation 4 years later. The plan assumes 4 years of high school math through trigonometry, chemistry, and reasonable writing skills. If you are entering the program at any other level, or planning to take more than 4 years to graduate, it is important that you immediately contact a geology faculty advisor or the department chair and develop a plan, tailored to your individual needs. Especially important is the sequencing of course prerequisites in geology, as missing prerequisite course in one semester will delay your graduation by one year.
