

Career Workshop

Dr. John Singleton
Los Alamos National Laboratory

Careers and Science at Los Alamos National Laboratory

Abstract

I will cover the range of science careers and internships available at Los Alamos National Laboratory (LANL) and other Government Labs. LANL maintains and develops an agile, responsive, and innovative workforce dedicated to addressing complex national security issues and the world's most difficult existential challenges. Multidisciplinary science, technology, biology and engineering capabilities are necessary for this task; as a result, LANL includes unique experimental and computational facilities.

The presentation will comprise a twenty-five-minute talk, a brief movie about LANL careers and an open question-and-answer session.

12:30 p.m. – 1:00 pm Friday, October 2nd Virtual
For Zoom Link contact dougs@mail.fresnostate.edu