

LEON S. PETERS ETHICS LECTURE

Protecting Victims of Child Sex Abuse: After Penn State

Bernadette Muscat

Thursday, January 26
5-6 PM

Alice Peters Auditorium
University Business Center

The presentation will provide an overview of child victimization, difficulties of child disclosure, individual response to the victimization experienced, as well as societal response to victimization. Emphasis will be placed on the parameters for mandated reporters, as well as the ethical responsibility that each member of society has in reporting victimization.

Dr. Muscat is Associate Professor and Victimology Coordinator in the Department of Criminology. She has worked with law enforcement agencies, victim services, and court programs to ensure effective administration of victim assistance. Dr. Muscat is the author of The Road to Recovery: Female Addiction and Residential Treatment Centers and co-author of CJ Realities and Challenges.
