

Adolescent Family Life Program

This program uses a home visiting model, in which Case Managers meet with pregnant and parenting teens in their homes and at schools to help them develop educational, personal and parenting goals. Students work on program projects to enhance the program's services. Projects might include: organizing and facilitating workshops for young parents, assisting in organizing an event such as the spring fling event, coordinating a clothing drive, or other creative ways to keep parents engaged.

AVID

AVID's mission is to close the achievement gap by preparing all students for college readiness and success in a global society. AVID serves students that are in the academic middle, may be first generation, and/or are underrepresented on college campuses. AVID tutors run small group tutorials to help students move to deeper understanding of material by identifying points of confusion and using questioning strategies to allow students to gain insight into their learning.

FAMILY SERVICES

Team Decision Making (TDM)

The project is a child abuse prevention program which utilizes TDM (team decision making) to assist families in crisis. Community representatives who are involved in the TDM process serve as a natural ally and potential advocate for parents. Families are provided with referral services, community resources, and support from community representatives.

MATERNAL HEALTH

San Joaquin/Sierra Regional Perinatal Program

Program provides education, training and technical assistance to birthing hospitals of Region 5, a nine county area of California. The program promotes quality improvement activities to help hospitals enhance and strengthen their services to improve birth outcomes of mothers, babies and families in the San Joaquin valley and Sierra areas of California.

Perinatal Mental Health Integration Project

The primary purpose of this project is to establish comprehensive integrated perinatal mental health system of care in Fresno County through 1) the implementation of the Nurture 2 Nurture consultation service, 2) trainings for medical, health care and behavioral health professionals on perinatal mood disorder screening and treatment protocols, and 3) facilitation of support groups throughout Fresno County to increase access and enhance the quality of perinatal behavioral health services in Fresno County by cultivating effective collaboration between medical, behavioral, and allied health providers. The project added another County site in Madera and is currently working to expand in Northern California.

California Personal Responsibility Education Program (CA PREP)

The California Personal Responsibility Education Program (CA PREP) is a three year teen pregnancy prevention program that is funded by the California Department of Public Health - Maternal, Child and Adolescent Health (MCAH) Program. The purpose of CA PREP is to 1) educate California's most high-risk and vulnerable adolescents on both abstinence and contraception by replicating evidence-based program models that have been proven to change behavior or reduce pregnancy among youth ages 12-19 in Kings County; 2) address at least three adulthood preparation subjects; 3) create family planning clinical linkages; and 4) maintain a community coalition of stakeholders to engage community members in actions that change social norms in order to achieve the following goals:

- Decrease teen pregnancies and sexually transmitted infections
- Support youth's personal growth with meaningful opportunities for enrichment to increase resiliency and self-efficacy to avoid harmful behaviors
- Ensure access to teen friendly family and reproductive health planning services
- Increase community support in the development of healthy youth and the reduction of risky sexual behaviors.

YOUTH DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Lock It Up Project

Project partners with school districts, pharmacies, medical and behavioral health professionals, parents and youth to increase awareness of the risks and consequences associated with illicit use of prescription painkillers by teens and adults ages 12 – 20 in Fresno County. This community-based project provides information through town hall meetings, outreach events, and media messages to address this issue.

Performing Above the High (PATH) Project

Through a series of community norm change campaigns, the program aims to reduce marijuana use among youth and young adults, ages 12-20, in Fresno County. Program components include: 1) school/community-based prevention education; 2) youth advocacy training; 3) parent education and training; 4) law enforcement collaborations; and 5) community outreach.

Selma High School Reproductive Health Services Project

The project is designed to delay the onset of sexual activity among Selma High School (Fresno County) students and to prevent pregnancies and STD/STI transmission among sexually active teens by implementing an array of activities and providing Family PACT clinical linkage services. Project is funded by the Selma Healthcare District Foundation.

Circle of Friends

Our Circle of Friends program connects high school and college aged students (ages 13-24) with children who are grieving the loss of a loved one. Interns and volunteers are trained to assist children who participate in a grief support program. This intern will be part of the new Circle of Friends in Madera.

As part of the 16 week internship, the student will commit to becoming a "Special Friend" to a child experiencing the recent loss of a family member and be their companion for the duration of the 12 week program attending regular meetings with them on either Monday or Tuesday evenings. Interns must be available both these nights until a regular meeting date is scheduled.

An initial nine hour training is required to become a "Special Friend" (date yet to be determined). Additional time will be utilized planning the meetings, preparing activities/materials and actual set up for the weekly meetings as well as outreach to find volunteers to be "Special Friends". Tentative hours would be 2-830 pm on the meeting day with other fill in time that will fit with your school schedule to complete the 130 hour program.

Interested students must commit to regular attendance as described above and have the desire and passion to help children who are grieving. This experience can enhance a job or college application. If you are interested in participating, please contact Stephanie Doss at 559-248-8579 or sdoss@hindshospice.org

Community Regional Medical Center

Child Life Practicum

Community Regional Medical Center is proud to offer a Child Life practicum experience for those interested in a career as a Child Life Specialist. Practicum students will shadow members of CRMC's child life team, observing and participating in therapeutic and educational interventions in a variety of settings including the acute care pediatric unit, the pediatric intensive care unit, and the Leon S. Peters Burn Center. Through experiential learning and observation of a child life specialist, students will begin to increase their knowledge of basic child life skills related to play, developmental assessment, and integration of child development theory into interventions with infants, children, youth and families. Please visit the Child Life Council (www.childlife.org) for more information about the child life profession.

Requirements:

- Applicants must be current or former child life or child development students. For the spring semester, 2017, only current Fresno State seniors in the Child Development/Family Sciences programs will be considered.
- Completion of 130 hours. Applicants must be willing to commit to one weekly 8-hour shift for a minimum of 16 weeks in order to complete the required 130 hours. Shifts typically start between 7 and 8am and end between 3:30 and 4:30pm. Students will work the same hours as their supervising child life specialist.

- Applicants should have prior experience working with children and should feel comfortable in a hospital environment. Applicants should be able to demonstrate a solid grasp of child development theory and a basic understanding of the field and purpose of child life. Preference will be given to applicants who are interested in a career as a child life specialist.

How to Apply:

Complete and submit the CRMC Child Life Practicum Application (attached to the email sent to you with this list). If selected for an in-person interview you will be contacted by the child life team. No more than one to two practicum students will be accommodated in the Spring, 2017 semester.

For questions please email Hannah Knott (hknott@communitymedical.org) or Alexis Mauel (amauel@communitymedical.org).
