

Harvest Intern Position

Talisman Wines is looking for an intern to work during the 2015 harvest. Talisman is a small, quality-oriented Pinot noir producer located in Sonoma, California. This is an opportunity to participate in a broad range of activities from fruit processing/crush, fermentation management, pressing, barreling, and other harvest-related tasks.

We also provide custom crush services to a few small high-end producers, so this is a great opportunity to work with other winemakers and gain exposure to other varieties and production philosophies.

Candidates should be organized and detail oriented, able to lift at least 50 lbs., willing and able to work long hours, and be of cheerful disposition. The position starts about August 15 and ends around mid-November.
