

News Contact:
Dayana Jiselle Contreras
Djcontreras9@gmail.com
559.278.2656 Ex: 8861

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

December 17, 2013

ASI welcomes new Co-editor for Bulldog Blog

ASI adds a new position onto their office staff and welcomes Kristen Wong as The Bulldog Blog Co-Editor. Wong will assist Clay Crocket, Bulldog Editor, now that Crocket will be expanding his services and serving as Fresno State's Website and Social Media Consultant as well.

Wong is a senior majoring in Recreation Administration with an emphasis in event planning and minoring in Mass Communication and Journalism.

Wong began her experience with ASI as an intern. She assisted in the planning of many events such as the Homecoming Rally, Book Drive, November Food Drive Challenge, and Caroling for Cans. She has also worked closely with the Community Revitalization efforts in the past year.

"We are very excited to have Kristen on the team. Her prior experience and her experience with her major will make her an asset to the blog and its increased presence," said Crocket.

Her responsibilities as the Bulldog Blog Co-Editor will partake in handling the social media along with the publishing of the blog.

"I am overjoyed to join the Bulldog Blog team as co-editor and work alongside Clay. I am thrilled to produce content for students here at Fresno State and go on this exciting new journey!" said Wong.