

Associated Students Inc. (ASI) is hosting what is known as “Blitz Week” the first of September. This is a week filled with events to encourage students to get involved with their school, committees and overall ASI.

On Sept. 5, in the Free Speech Area, ASI senators will be putting on activities. Hot dogs and waters will be handed out for those students who sign up for a committee. Along with that, Rockstar energy drinks will be sponsoring the event. Students will attempt to successfully make a basketball into the hoop to win a free Rockstar.

“My goal is to create a fun environment in which students can feel comfortable talking to student leaders about the various ways in which they can have a voice and become involved on campus through the median of ASI,” ,” said Anthony Guzman, senator of Arts and Humanities.
