Central Valley Student Leadership Conference to take place at Fresno State

The Central Valley Student Leadership Conference will take place on Friday Nov 1 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Foundation Board room of Auxiliary Services, located behind Jack-in-the-Box.

The purpose of the conference is to enhance the leadership capacity of student representatives in the Central Valley and to cultivate regional pride through exploration of topics affecting the valley. There will be representatives from CSU Bakersfield, Fresno, and Stanislaus present along with those students who registered beforehand.

Some of the issues that will be discussed include poverty in the area, unemployment, and education rates.

“We hope to start a long-term program that could expand to other College leaders in the Central Valley. Ideally, this will be a collaborative effort between UCs, CSUs, and Community Colleges in the Central Valley in the years to come,” said ASI President Moses R. Menchaca.
