Financial Aid Programs

Financial assistance is available to students and families of all income levels. This funding comes in the form of grants, work-study opportunities, scholarships and loans from federal and state governments, lending institutions, private donors and organizations.

Grants – Financial aid that does not have to be repaid

- Federal Pell Grant – for an undergraduate who has not earned a bachelor’s or professional degree. Students may receive up to twelve full time semesters of the Federal Pell Grant. This grant ranges from $574 to $5,645.

- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) – awarded on a priority basis to undergraduate students who demonstrate eligibility for Pell Grant. FSEOG awards vary based on the availability of funds.

- State University Grant (SUG) – a program for eligible California residents, Dream Act Applicants, or AB 540 students. Funding is based on the assessed California State University fee.

- Educational Opportunity Program Grant (EOP) – available to eligible undergraduate students admitted to Fresno State through EOP. Awards are subject to the availability of funds.

- California Graduate Equity Fellowship Program – available to under-represented students in a master’s degree program. Recipients must demonstrate minimum need of $500, pay resident fees, maintain a 3.0 or better GPA and file a supplemental application available from the Graduate Office, Frank W. Thomas Building, 132.

- Bureau of Indian Affairs Grant (BIA) – available to students who are at least one-quarter American Indian, Eskimo or Aleut. A supplemental application is required. Contact your tribal agency for application and deadline dates.

- Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant – available to students who agree to serve as a full-time teacher for four years within eight years of completing their course of study, and teach in high-need schools and in high-need subject areas approved by the Secretary of Education. A 3.25 or higher GPA is required. The grant will revert to a Federal Direct unsubsidized loan with accrued retroactive interest if the student fails to complete the terms of service. - Federal Work-Study – a need-based employment program for undergraduate and post-baccalaureate students. Students can work up to 20 hours a week with on campus and selected off campus agencies. Students who are awarded Work-Study and live on campus enjoy the benefit of not having to worry about transportation to most job sites. Work-Study is the perfect opportunity for students to gain work experience in an educational environment.
Compliance Unit
Assuring financial aid assistance is available to eligible current and future students.

The compliance team is responsible for assuring that the Financial Aid Office is in compliance with federal and state regulations. As a result, federal and state financial aid monies are available to you to help you achieve your college degree.

Our main goal is to help the financial aid staff provide quality and consistent service while staying within the constraints of the ever changing federal and state regulations.

We also provide financial aid assistance to students and staff in special programs such as Study Abroad, International programs, Athletics and those programs processed through the Continuing Global Education department.

If you have any questions, our financial aid staff is here to help you!

Cal Grants A & B – available to undergraduate students. Grants currently range from $1,473 to $6,348 at Fresno State. Teaching credential students may apply for an additional year by submitting a G-44 form to CSAC. This form is available in the Financial Aid Office or CSAC website.

California Chafee Grant Program – gives up to $5,000 annually to foster and former foster youth to use for college courses or vocational school training. Contact your high school counselor and/or obtain an application at www.csac.ca.gov.

Child Development Grant Program – recipients must pursue a child development permit at the teacher, site supervisor or program director level. Recipients must agree to provide one year of full-time service in a licensed children’s center for each year they receive the grant. Applications are available April 2014, and the filing deadline is in June. For details, contact the Fresno State Programs for Children, Education Building, Room 25 or CSAC.

Law Enforcement Dependents Grant – benefits dependents and spouses of California peace officers, correctional officers and firefighters who have been killed or totally disabled in the line of duty. Applications are available from CSAC.

Loan Forgiveness Programs – the California Student Aid Commission provides assumption benefits for teachers (APLE and GRADUATE APLE), nurses (SNAPLE) and individuals who serve in the National Guard, state military reserve and the Naval Militia (NGAPLE). Please check the CSAC website for details.
Scholarships
Financial assistance that is usually based on academic achievement and does not have to be repaid

Each year, California State University, Fresno awards nearly $3 million in scholarships ranging from $100 to $8,000 to selected students. Factors for consideration typically include scholastic achievement, academic major, involvement in school organizations, participation in community activities and full-time enrollment. Depending on specific scholarship requirements, these factors can vary. Regardless of your accomplishment, interests or background, we encourage you to apply for scholarships.

Application Deadlines and Procedures
The scholarship application for the 2015-2016 academic year will be available and accepted online from October 1, 2014 through February 28, 2015. To apply, visit www.FresnoState.edu/scholarships/ and click on Scholarship Application. The Scholarship website provides a one-stop opportunity to apply for hundreds of institutional scholarships by submitting just one online application.

For additional information, please contact the Scholarship Office at 559.278.6572 or visit the office in Joyal Administration Building, Room 274.

Federal Perkins Loan – a low-interest (5 percent) loan available to undergraduate and graduate students. Eligible undergraduate students may borrow up to $5,500 per year; graduate students may borrow up to $8,000 per year. Students may borrow a total of $27,500 during their undergraduate studies. Graduates may borrow up to $60,000, including any amount borrowed as an undergraduate. Interest and principal payments are deferred while students remain enrolled at least half time. Perkins loan borrowers begin repayment nine months after they stop attending at least half time. Awards are subject to availability of funds.

Nursing Student Loan – a low-interest (5 percent) loan to assist eligible undergraduate nursing students admitted into the nursing program. Eligible students may borrow up to $3,300 per year for the first two years and $5,200 each year for the final two academic years up to a $17,000 maximum. Principal and interest payments are deferred until nine months after a recipient stops attending at least half time. Awards are subject to availability of funds.

Federal Direct Student Loan Program – a major form of self-help aid. For students who qualify, a federally subsidized Direct loan is offered through the Department of Education. Students who do not qualify for a subsidized Direct loan have the option of an unsubsidized Direct loan through the Department of Education.

Interest on a subsidized Direct loan is paid by the government while the student is enrolled at least half time. Interest on the unsubsidized Direct loan is the responsibility of the student and accrues from the date of disbursement. The student has the option of paying the interest while in school or letting it accrue and be added to the principal upon repayment.

Repayment on both types of loans is deferred until six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half time.

Federal Direct Plus Loans – available to parents of undergraduate students and to graduate degree students in a master’s or doctoral program, without adverse credit history. To qualify, students must be enrolled at least half time and meet requirements for federal financial aid. A parent or graduate student may borrow the difference between the cost of attendance and other resources available to the student. PLUS loans are not subsidized and have a fixed 6.41 percent interest rate. Additional information is available on our website: www.FresnoState.edu/finaid.
How Eligibility Is Determined

Cost of Attendance
- Family Contribution

= FINANCIAL NEED

The Cost of Attendance includes school expenses as well as average living expenses for the nine-month academic year. See chart on Page 7.

The Expected Family Contribution is calculated according to a formula specified by the law. It measures the family’s financial strength on the basis of family income and assets, taking into consideration the number of persons in the household, as well as the number of family members attending college during the academic year.

How Do I Know If I’m Eligible?

Explore your financial aid eligibility early. FAFSA4caster is a tool to assist students and families plan for college. The FAFSA4caster provides early estimates of expected family contribution (EFC) and eligibility for federal student aid. Students who utilize the early access tool are given the option of transferring the predetermined FAFSA4caster data into the FAFSA application. For more information go to www.fafsa.ed.gov/ and click on the FAFSA4caster link.

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is an all-purpose application available on the web at www.fafsa.ed.gov/. The FAFSA must be filed annually and is used to apply for grants, work-study and loans.

You must file your FAFSA between January 1, 2014 and March 2, 2014 to ensure timely delivery of funds; however, applications are accepted throughout the enrollment period.

If you filed a FAFSA in 2013-2014 and qualify for renewal, the U.S. Department of Education will send you a renewal reminder via email or by mail if the email is undeliverable. If you are a new applicant or need a PIN, you may apply for one at www.pin.ed.gov/. Parents may also obtain a PIN to e-sign the student application on the Web.

Application Processing

Approximately three weeks after you submit your FAFSA, the Central Processing Center will send your information to the schools you reported on your application. You will receive a Student Aid Report or SAR Acknowledgement. Review the results of your application and, if necessary, submit corrections using the instructions on your report. The processor will send corrected information to you, to the California Student Aid Commission (CSAC) and to the schools you listed on your FAFSA. The Financial Aid Office will notify you, at your Fresno State email address, that your application data (FAFSA) has been received and if additional documents are needed. Please respond to all requests as soon as possible. Once all documentation has been received, eligibility is verified, and any necessary corrections have been made, the Financial Aid Office will send an electronic Award Notification to your Fresno State email address. Please read and follow the steps outlined in your email.

We encourage you to check your application status on your Student Center, https://my.FresnoState.edu/.

Budgeting

Financial aid funds are typically disbursed once per semester. Your expenses will continue throughout the year. It is important to budget your money wisely to avoid falling short of funds during the semester.

The Estimated Cost of Attendance and Total Resources charts on Page 7 will give you an example of budgeting for the academic year. Your actual expenses will vary depending on your living arrangements and lifestyle.

To determine the total amount of money you have to work with:

- Add financial aid offered and accepted. Include other resources available to you such as family contribution, scholarships, etc., to find your Total School Year Resources.
- Divide this amount by nine months to find your Total Monthly Living Allowance.

You must then determine if your Total Monthly Living Allowance is enough to cover your Monthly Living Expenses, including room and board, transportation and personal needs. If not, there are a number of options you may wish to explore:

- Can you adjust your living expenses while maintaining a successful learning environment?
- Is it possible to increase your contribution from family or personal resources?
- Have you obtained ALL financial aid resources available to you, including loans?

Each student must work out a personal budget, making necessary adjustments. Online budgeting tools are available at http://www.finaid.org/calculators/studentbudget.phtml and http://www.calgrants.org/index.cfm?navId=16

Fresno State Choice Card by Higher One

When it comes to managing your money and receiving Financial Aid refunds, you deserve choices! Fresno State has partnered with Higher One to deliver refunds; and to offer you smarter ways to manage that money.

Use your new Fresno State Choice Card to let Higher One know how you’d like to receive your money. Choose the option that fits you best:

- Same business day deposit to a Higher One checking account. If you choose to open a Higher One checking account, your card can be used as a debit card (NOT a credit card). This option is subject to fees depending upon how you would use your debit card.
- Deposit to another account.
- Paper Check via US Mail

Please visit the Student Financial Services Money Matters website for more information: www.FresnoState.edu/adminserv/accountingservices/money/.

Financial Aid Satisfactory Progress

In accordance with state and federal regulations, all financial aid students are required to maintain satisfactory progress (SAP). These standards apply to all grant, loan and work-study programs administered by the Financial Aid Office. The purpose of these regulations is to encourage the timely and successful completion of a degree or credential objective.

Students must successfully complete a minimum percentage of the total units they have taken, and not exceed the maximum unit limit. Refer to our SAP policy found in the Policy Pages section of our website.
Perhaps college is a new experience for you, or maybe you are a continuing student and the college experience is a familiar one. In either case, this is an exciting time in your life. Meeting financial obligations associated with college life can be challenging if you are not adequately prepared. The Financial Aid Office is available to help you with your concerns and needs.

It is our hope that this publication will provide you with a general overview of financial aid and with some specific direction. If you need additional assistance or have questions, stop by our office and speak with one of our advisors.

Sincerely,

Bernard Ogden
Financial Aid Director
