Open University permits you to enroll in regular university courses at California State University, Fresno on a space available basis. Open University students are not eligible to receive financial aid and can enroll as matriculated students for subsequent semesters only after (re)applying to the university. Units earned for classes taken through Open University are recorded as resident credit on the Fresno State transcript.

Individuals who intend to apply to a California State University are strongly encouraged to consult with an advisor prior to enrollment in Open University. Admissions and Records is located in Joyal Administration, North Lobby; their phone number is 559.278.2261. Although Fresno State will accept up to 24 units towards a baccalaureate degree for classes taken through Open University and Extension, credit earned through Open University may affect admission classification for first time freshmen and transfer students. Courses taken through Open University are not normally used to fulfill the requirements toward a graduate degree. Students intending to take a course through the Division of Continuing and Global Education must request special permission from their graduate program coordinator/director to use the course toward their graduate degree. If approved, a maximum of 9 transfer (including California State University, Fresno Extension and/or Open University) units may be used toward a 30-unit program. Students may not enroll through Open University in order to bypass the university fee structure.

Students enrolling in 200-level courses are not permitted to enroll for a second semester until they are formally admitted to a graduate degree program. Students cannot enroll for Thesis or Project through Open University. Graduate students who are disqualified from the university are not eligible to enroll in 200 level courses through Open University.

Students are responsible for completing all course prerequisites prior to enrolling in classes through Open University.

Students may not enroll in a class for which they have an “I” (incomplete) grade. Please refer to the university general catalog for details.
