The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at California State University, Fresno, is designed for adults age 50+ who wish to continue learning and exploring for the sheer joy of it. Renew your enthusiasm for learning in a relaxed atmosphere, without entrance requirements, grades or exams.

Funded in part by the Bernard Osher Foundation, the OLLI is a vibrant learning community offering a rich array of workshops, short courses, and field trips of particular interest to retired or semi-retired adults.

OLLI members enjoy these benefits:
- free admission to OLLI events
- free parking on campus during events
- Madden Library privileges
- reduced admission fees at Fresno area museums
- specially-designed travel study opportunities

Two Spring activities are open to the public for an admission fee of $10 each, payable at the door. Guests are invited to attend the March 7 presentation, “CyberKnife: The New Frontier” and the April 11 session “The End of California,” with author Steve Yarbrough, MFA. These events will be held in the Satellite Student Union and OLLI members may attend both these sessions for free. Due to limited space, all other Spring 2007 events are open ONLY to OLLI members.

We have an exciting schedule of activities that will challenge, inspire, and motivate you—why not join us today?
An Evening With Theodore Roosevelt, offered in collaboration with KVPR

Tuesday, February 13, 6:30 - 8:30 pm
Mercedes Edwards Theatre, 902 Fifth Street, Clovis
Activity fee: $22.50

Nationally renowned for his portrayal of the third president Thomas Jefferson, humanities scholar Clay S. Jenkinson has taken on the life and character of the twenty-sixth president Theodore Roosevelt. Jenkinson’s award-winning spontaneous impersonations address all the issues of Roosevelt’s life, including leadership, conservation, the strenuous life, the “square deal,” life in the arena, America’s imperial role, Capitalism and economic justice, the presidency in the twentieth century, America’s literary achievement, and government and American ideals. OLLI members may purchase discounted tickets for $22.50. 75 discounted tickets available.

Global Warming and Climate Change: The Scientific Perspective

Wednesday, February 14, 3 – 4:30 pm
Student Recreation Center
Parking in Lot A

The threat of rapid climate change and global warming is now widely recognized as one of the most difficult challenges facing the world today. This talk will present the scientific background and data that are the basis for popular media reporting. Dr. Stephen D. Lewis, Associate Professor in the Department of Earth and Environmental Sciences, teaches courses on Natural Disasters, Critical Thinking in the Natural Sciences, Geophysics, Global Tectonics, and Remote Sensing. His research has focused on the structural and tectonic development of continental margins, mostly in the circum-Pacific region. He has led more than 25 oceanographic research expeditions to the Philippines, the South China margin, Taiwan, Alaska, southern Chile, Barbados, and to offshore California.

Parking in Lots P & J
Open to the public, $10 admission at the door; free for OLLI members
The CyberKnife® Robotic Radiosurgery System is the world’s first and only radiosurgery system designed to treat tumors anywhere in the body with sub-millimeter accuracy. Using image guidance technology and computer controlled robotics, the CyberKnife System is designed to continuously track, detect and correct for tumor and patient movement throughout the treatment, and provides an additional option to many patients diagnosed with previously inoperable or surgically complex tumors. Dr. Wong is the lead radiation oncologist and was instrumental in bringing the CyberKnife program to Community Regional Medical Center and California Cancer Center. Dr. Brian Clague has specialized in Pediatrics for 20 years and Spine Disorders for 15 years and has served as Medical Director of CyberKnife since 2004. Kristine H. Gagliardi is Vice President of Clinical Development for Accuray, Inc., developer of the CyberKnife.
