1. SPECIAL PROVISIONS: POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

IMPORTANT NOTE: All applicants for space should keep this policy document, as it will become part of the rental contract if and when the request is approved.

Introduction: The conference facilities were provided through private donations for the primary use of business practitioners to engage in continuing education. The functions held in the Center must comply with the UBC charter as described in the UBC Board of Advisors' Constitution and Bylaws. The priority of use of the facilities of the University Business Center (UBC) shall be for workshops, seminars, institutes and other similar functions for the business and professional community of the San Joaquin Valley. Requests for use should also meet the following criteria:

Appropriateness: The activities, programs, and other functions must fall within the charter and strategic plan of The Craig School of Business. In addition, all activities must be acceptable and in compliance with the laws of the State of California, California State University, Fresno, the City and County of Fresno, the United States and all governmental units. The Director will use his or her good judgment to ensure that all programs are conducted within the moral and legal standards of California State University, Fresno and The Craig School of Business.

In addition, appropriate dress codes will be maintained; no lounging and no pets are allowed in the building. No food or beverages unless approved by the UBC Director will be allowed.

Exploitation Avoidance: The Director will ensure that no individual uses the facilities for his or her own personal gain or commercial activities, which are in conflict with the Constitution and Bylaws of the Board of Advisors of the University Business Center. For example, the foyer will not be rented to commercial activities selling merchandise, but trade exhibits open to all competitors to demonstrate new products are acceptable under the usage guidelines of the UBC.

Smoke Free Environment: Please refrain from smoking anywhere in the UBC. Smoking is not permitted anywhere in the Craig School of Business complex.

Procedure for Use and Rental: The attached application form will be completed and forwarded to the UBC Director for approval. It should be remembered that at no time could regular university credit classes be scheduled on a semester basis without the approval of the UBC Director as this would destroy the flexibility of the facility and be contrary to the use for which the funds were raised.

Appeals: Appeals relative to the use of the UBC can be made to the UBC Board of Advisors. Consistent with the State and University policies, in all disputes and appeals relative to the UBC and its policies, the Dean's decision shall be the final authority.

Damages: Persons and/or organizations using the UBC facilities are responsible for damages and breakage of facilities and equipment. In some instances the user must provide and pay for security guards. The posting of flyers is a special area of importance. Our posting policy prohibits the taping or tacking of any and all flyers or announcement on any wall, pillars, doors, windows or railings in the Peters Building. Scotch tape and masking tape, when baked by the sun leave a permanent mark.

The Foyer: The foyer can be used for art gallery purposes, traveling exhibits and other such programs that are appropriate and compatible with the mission of The Craig School of Business, the University Business Center, and California State University, Fresno so long as these exhibits do not interfere with the primary purpose of the UBC, which are management education, contract research and related activities. It is preferable to have the artwork appropriate for business i.e., paintings and professional photography of early Fresno Agribusiness Organizations, historic pen and ink sketching of Fresno companies, and business art from around the world. When the UBC is holding educational seminars that require team participation, other events will not be scheduled for use in the foyer area.

Rental rate: Per-day charges reflect current rates and may be changed at any time.

The certificate of insurance and letter of endorsement must be received by the University Business Center no later than one week prior to the event. To ensure timely accommodation of your conference needs, please include the above items with your rental application to the University Business Center at least two (2) weeks prior to your scheduled event. Regretfully, we will not be able to accommodate any group without the above items.
